About

Forest Creek a slower pace, a simpler time...

Montrose's fresh air and wide-open spaces create a casual comfort that's irresistible. It's a place where you can retreat from everyday life. Where you enjoy the journey, especially the one that brings you home.

Countryside vistas and rural charm beckon you to the town of Montrose, where blue skies and green space bring the promise of a tranquil tomorrow.

Rolling farmland, winding rivers and glistening lakes offer Montrose residents an abundance of recreational opportunities close to home. Large pines flank Crow Springs Country Park, which features access to one of the regions most scenic and accessible canoe routes. An idyllic swimming beach, picnic area and boat launch attracts sun lovers to Oscar and Anna Johnson County Park. Area golf courses and an array of park reserves, forest, campgrounds and lakeshore settings create additional ways to explore your surroundings and experience sheer serenity.

Tucked just past the western suburbs of the Twin Cities, Montrose is a hideaway community like no other. Located along the Highway 12/394 thoroughfare, serving as the gateway to the western metro area. Along that same stretch lies Montrose, a town with a rural setting and all the modern conveniences nearby. A short, ten mile drive to buffalo delivers a vast array of regional shopping and recreational opportunities.

Montrose students enjoy schools that offer high quality educational opportunities in a cooperative, nurturing setting. The in-town elementary school serves grades K-5, and a new middle school site in town has been purchased. Neighboring Buffalo is home to the area high school.
